Hi Kate,

Jim and I just spoke.

Jim will work on Excelsior now and we believe we can complete the review and send it to you on 4/19 (maybe 4/18). If the material to review is complex and/or has some issues, it could take more LOE and calendar time. As we get into the review, we'll let you as soon as possible if any issues arise that affect LOE or schedule.

The next scheduled call for Excelsior is 4/27? (The last Jim had heard there was a 4/13 call.) Please let us know and, yes, Jim is planning on being on that call. We'll keep an eye out for further details on the next call.

After Excelsior, we'll turn to Alon and delivery of the technical review to you by 4/28 should work fine.

Thank you,

Jonathan

Jonathan/Jim –

I just spoke to David and he would like Excelsior to take priority right now. Please work on this first and then Alon. I expect the Alon deliverable to be due ~4/28?? Please confirm.

I understand that Jim thinks it will take about Ex. 4 - CBI for the Excelsior review and then a handful of hours for Cadmus QA. Can we readjust the deliverable date from

Ex. 4 - CBI

Ex. 4 - CBI

We need to know if the new material addresses our concerns or if there are any red flags or outstanding items/clarifications that we need to discuss with Excelsior on the next conf call which is scheduled for Thursday, 4/27. We would like Jim to be on that call. Will send you call info when I have it.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks. Kate

Thank you, Nancy.

Jim is now reading through the 4 attachments/148 pages of Excelsior responses in order to estimate the LOE hours required to complete the review, and to resume regular calls.

We have used all the existing LOE in the Excelsior TDM to complete the prior review of the last round of their responses.

We'll be back in touch soon with our estimate.

Thank you,

Jonathan

Hi Jim,

Please find attached request letter. I consulted with Kate. She thought the existing TDM covers the review for this response. She's in training today but please discuss updating LOE and timing with her. Excelsior wants to resume conference calls every two weeks starting April 13, 10 am.

Thanks, Nancy
